Brookside Flooding Increase Is Anticipated

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Prop. 9: Attractive, Dangerous

Let's stamp out property taxes. If Proposition 9 passes in November, that's what'll happen, they say.

Proposition 9 offers to restrict property taxes to a little over one percent of the actual property value but there are flies in the ointment of its logic although the present property tax is more than eight percent.

Frederic C. Whitney, director of the Southern Counties of Californians Against the Tax Trap insists that Prop. 9 is not going to save homeowners any dough. True, it will take it off the property but it would be added on where the pain will be even greater — at the paycheck and everyday purchase level.

The result of passage of Prop. 9 would do what the sponsor, Los Angeles Assessor Phil Watson, says it will do. It will cut back property taxes dramatically. Schools would suffer most. They need the soundness of property base for their bonds. Welfare will have to find a new source of financing. Eventually, the water programs would dry up as water bonds become unsalable without the property base. The property tax income would be restricted to paying only for things analogous to homes — such as fire and police protection, and sewer service.

So who will pay the school-water-welfare tax bill? You will, of course. But you'll pay it through a 15 per cent or more sales tax and a state income tax that would be hiked a frightening 300 per cent or more. These costs won't disappear. They'll only be transposed — with some more hooked on for the trouble you've caused.

If you live in a rental, your rent probably won't be reduced, even if the tax is dropped. But your sales and income tax will be hiked painfully. The average homeowner will benefit on his tax bill but his total tax bills will be higher because the Watson Bill is designed to aid big property owners and speculators.

But even these guys are going to enjoy only a short season of prosperity. If water development stops, construction expansion will stop. With the drying up of water will also be the drying up of all construction related endeavors. Simply put, developers could no longer develop. Why can't they see that? Don't they know that it would be near impossible to sell any kind of property bonds? Without growth, unemployment would grow to such proportions as to make today's welfare responsibility look like a bargain.

The Watson Act has good intent. Property taxes should be reduced. Inventory taxes should be dropped at the same time. However, as attractive as Proposition 9 appears to be, it will not solve anyone's problems.

The solution to the homeowners' tax is far more simple than the one proposed by Mr. Watson.

To reduce taxes, cut expenses. Repeat the rule which makes us responsible to supply a better livelihood for welfare recipients than some of the welfare contributors are enjoying.

Cut back the size of government — particularly those branches which enforce self made codes and collect fines imposed by themselves, thus forming in government the nearest thing to perpetual motion ever witnessed.

Insist that schools be operated 12 months a year until the present population explosion dies down. Already, the shortage of qualified teachers is more difficult than shortage of classrooms. Teachers might work longer; earn more.

The appeal of heavily cut taxes will be strong at election time. Let us not be misled into believing that Proposition 9 will save us from anything. Better still, let's insist that our legislators start reducing government and the cost thereof and do the things that will encourage our overlarge welfare generation to get off the dole and get back to work.

We urge you to study Proposition 9. It's a dangerous proposition.

Wallace: A Force For HEW?

Don't underestimate the effectiveness of George Wallace as a world force as a result of the upcoming Presidential election.

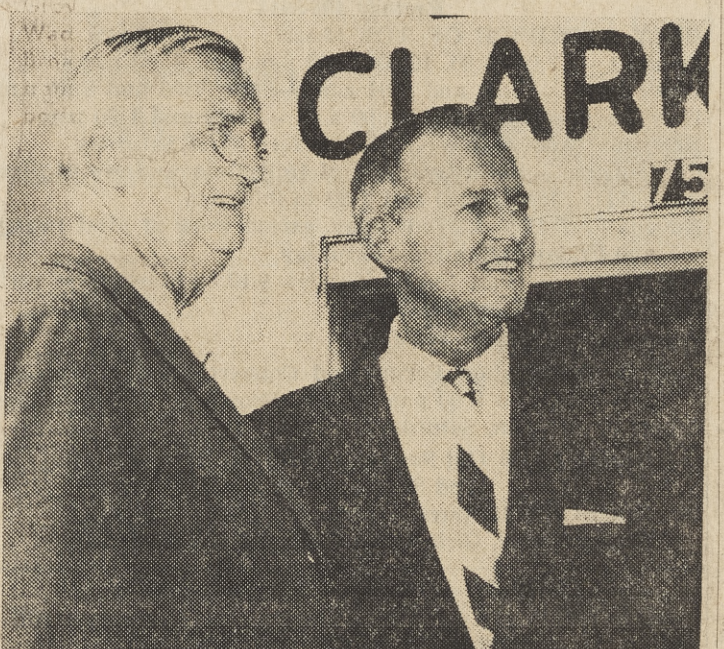

His support for any candidate could be substantial. It could be the difference between victory and defeat for the party he decides to support.

This consideration offers some intriguing possibilities in the world to come.

Suppose the new President, whomever he might be, were to promise him the post of Director of Health, Education and Welfare.

Or the ambassadorship to the Republic of Cuba — or to the United States representative to Russia.

No matter what one thinks about Wallace, few would deny that his service in any of the above posts would not make it a better world.

HEADQUARTERS — Realtor Ray Stephens greets Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin when Stephens' office was converted Saturday to Democratic Headquarters in Lemon Grove. Also sharing in the ceremonies was Assemblyman Wadde Deddeh. Demo Headquarters is located at 7580 Broadway. There'll be a "smidgin'" of real estate business transacted there between now and Nov. 5, Stephens reported.

Student Crossing Questioned

A special meeting between Supervisor Robert C. Dent and Don Barnes, principal of the Avondale School took place last night concerning the traffic problems at Jamacha rd. and Elkton Blvd., in La Presa.

In the last three years there have been 17 accidents, with six injuries at the intersection. This represents an accident rate equal to 1.8 accidents per million vehicles.

Many elementary and high school children cross at the intersection causing people in the Avondale area to become concerned for the safety of the children.

The people in the area have expressed their opinions that a control signal of some kind be placed at the corners.

The type suggested would be activated by students as necessary.

The Avondale School PTA submitted a request to the County Board of Supervisors requesting for an investigation by the San Diego County Engineer Department earlier last month.

Kid's Day Attracts 5,000 Here

More than 5,000 kids turned out for the 11th Annual Kid's Day in Lemon Grove last Saturday. They took part in a parade, athletic competitions and a parade contest.

Parade entry winners included the following: Costumed entries, (children under 8-years-of-age): 1st place Juquin Chavez, 2nd, Tracy Slamp and third, Michael Olden.

Costumed entries for children 8-12 year-of age include Lori Good, 1st place; Byron Burgard, 2nd, and Patti Garcia in 3rd place.

In the costumed group with two or more in a unit, Mark and Suzie Hudleston took 1st; Pam and Barbi Taylor, 2nd, and Carol and Bridget Hambell won 3rd place.

In the wheeled vehicle (other than bike) (age 8-12) Teresa O'Neill took a first place. In the Bike, 2 wheels, (8 and under) Susan Ramsey was 1st; Mark Curtis 2nd, and Bobby Ramsey 3rd.

In the Bike (8-12), Marie Christensen won 1st, while (Cont. on Page 8)

The Traffic Committee, after an Aug. 2 meeting, recommended to the Supervisors that a flashing yellow light be installed.

Flashing Signal
The system would include a pedestrian-actuated flashing yellow signal on Jamacha rd., in advance of the intersection in both directions.

The signal could be operated by a school boy if desired. At the current time, Jamacha rd., is posted for 35 miles per hour for vehicle traffic.

There is a school crossing at Elkton Blvd., with school crossing signs in place.

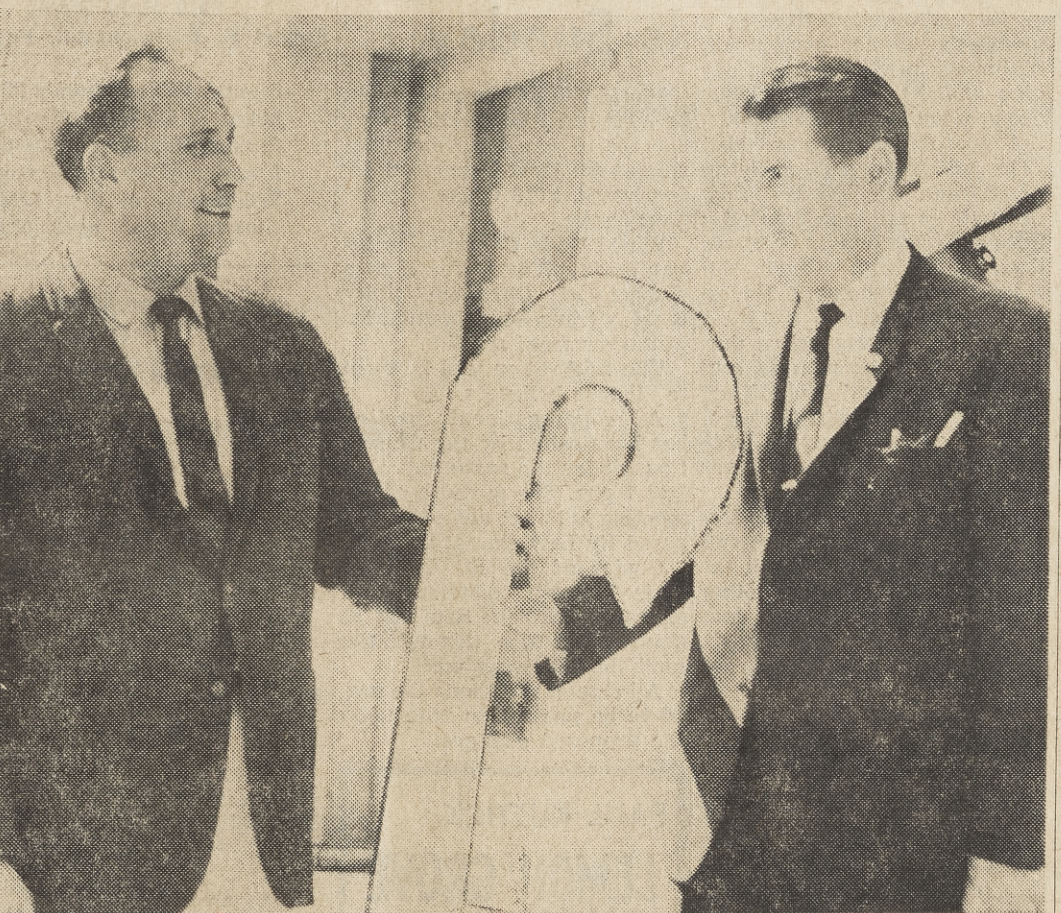

The traffic advisory committee pointed out that traffic on Jamacha rd., West to Elkton Blvd., was 9,250 vehicles per day in July.

They also pointed out that Jamacha rd., traveling West and on to Sweetwater rd., runs around 10,750 vehicles per day, while traffic moving South on Elkton Blvd., to Jamacha rd., invades around 5,200 vehicles per day.

District school officials said that between 200 and 250 elementary school children cross the intersection each day plus a great number of high school students that must use the crossing to get to Mt. Miguel High School.

Jamacha rd. is currently under reconstruction to a four-lane divided roadway. Traffic officials feel that this will improve the accident history in the area.

The proposed system would cost around $2,500.

Deputies Shoot At Suspect In Drug Store Robbery At Grove

Guns blazed in Lemon Grove on Sept. 26 at 10 p.m. as San Diego County Sheriff's deputies rushed to the Rexall Drug Store at 7785 Broadway while an attempted burglary was in process.

One shot was fired at the suspect after he escaped from deputies when caught at the scene.

Sheriff's deputy S. Johnson fired one shot from his service revolver at the suspect who was running through a parking lot.

The suspect, Ralph Fuqua of 3595 Olive, Lemon Grove, was tentatively identified by deputy E. Murphy from prior contact at the County Jail.

He was apprehended by deputies and taken to a patrol car. Deputy J. Bingham, who was aiding Murphy, left the area of the car to seek out another suspect.

After he left, suspect Fuqua lunged to the left of the car while Murphy was standing about four or five feet behind him.

Bond Issue Chairman In Hospital

The spokesman for the Citizens' Committee for passage of a $6 million bond issue for expansion of Grossmont Hospital had a chance to test her preachments Tuesday.

Mrs. Cyril Campbell, of 10809 Trent way, La Mesa, who is publicity chairman of the bond issue sponsoring group was transported to Grossmont hospital Tuesday following a coronary attack.

She was placed in the coronary care section but her condition was not revealed.

Mrs. Campbell had issued a press release yesterday explaining that a shortage of beds at Grossmont hospital made passage of the proposed $6 million bond issue imperative.

She said that a check earlier revealed that only 11 of the hospital's 216 beds were empty — and only one of these in the specialized cardiac care section where she now is.

If the bond issue passes on Nov. 5, 156 beds would be added, she had said.

If voters approve the bond issue, $4.15 a year will be added to the homeowner with a $20,000 value on his house. It would add 8.3 cents for each $100 valuation, according to Leverett Bristol, hospital administrator.

New Freeway Systems Will Increase Water Problems

by Jack Pollard, News Editor

The "dirty ditch", "the folly of Brookside", or the "hazard that exists but isn't", which is technically "The Brookside Flood Control Channel" will be the topic of discussion at a meeting of Federal, State, County and local leaders at the Spring Valley Elementary School Oct. 8 at 7:30 p.m.

The flood control problem, which dates back for some 18 years exists in the unincorporated area of Brookside which lies between Broadway in Lemon Grove down to Central ave., in La Mesa.

The areas is boarded by Lemon Grove, Spring Valley and La Mesa and covers about 18 acres while the ditch runs for a mile and a half.

Specifically, the flood control problems runs down the middle of Fairway dr., which is a country road, accepted by the County Board of Supervisors, on behalf of the general public.

It should be noted that the County Flood Control maintains the facility but does not own it. The County does not claim ownership of the facility either.

This is what representatives from the Army Corps of Engineers, Robert Rhodes, representative of Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin; State Senator Clair Burgener; Jerry Griffith, assistant to Wadde Deddeh; Ed Settle, Assistant District Engineer of the State Highway Department along with Supervisor Robert C. Dent and other officials will be discussing.

All residents of Brookside, Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, and La Mesa are urged to attend the meeting. Not only will the drainage problems be discussed but maps and proposed construction will be presented to help clarify the problem.

The channel dumps out into the Sweetwater River. The problem exists basically from the conduits that carry the excess water.

The largest conduit in the Brookside drainage system can handle 390 cubic feet of water per second.

The channel can be expected to carry more than 2,400 cubic feet of water per second during a rain period according to the Army Corps of Engineers report of 1967.

More Problems

With the construction of Route 125, which will be an eight lane freeway, and the widening of Highway 94 to eight lanes, along with the Highway 67 construction that will make that system six lanes, the water runoff is going to be increased in the area.

Both Spring Valley and Brookside are going to have problems with excess drainage. New interchanges will also add to the channeling of excess water into the area.

The facility which has been called the "Brookside Ditch" for years is not so. The County has called the "facility" the "Brookside Flood Control Channel, because they have recognized the problem of flooding.

This in turn will allow the county to enlist the aid of federal government engineers, and funds.

The Federal government can aid in flood control facilities but not with local ditches that propose problems to a particular community.

Other attempts have been made to get action on the problem. They were directed to the County Health Department. The water in the ditch is not safe for drinking and in fact is polluted according to a series showing the presence of Styptococcus Fecalis and Escherichia coli.

Both showings indicated bacteria which can produce five to 14 diseases. The water is not fit for swimming or boating.

Dr. J. B. Askew, M.D., head of the San Diego County Department of Public Health has refused to tab the overflow water as polluted because no "specific epidemic" has been traced back to the facility as the originating source.

Children Play

The hazard that exists comes from the fact that children play in the area of the ditch and also in the water. There is no covering on the path of water flow, and bushes grow adjacent to the the roadside areas.

Children playing in the area have been known to run out

Candidate Gets More Support

I'm giving my full support and endorsement for County Supervisor Robert C. Dent in the November elections," said Art Akers who opposed the incumbent in the June primary.

Akers, who received over 9,000 votes in the primary, said in a letter to Dent, he was supporting Dent because, "having carefully studied the past record of yourself and your opponent, I have come to the conclusion that it is for the betterment of this district that you be elected to another term as our Supervisor."

He said Dent has an excellent record as the watchdog of the County treasury. He said that the voter and the taxpayer owes a great debt to Dent for holding the line on taxes.

Men like Dent are rare public servants who are desperately needed to offset the free-spending methods of brash politicians who are trying to make a name for themselves by overspending public money. "It is the political opportunist who poses the greatest danger to the stability of our community and to our future," Akers said.

"When he asks questions that he knows have no answer and discusses vague problems that have nothing to do with the issues at hand, he is purposely confusing the voter for personal gain."

Akers said that Bob Dent's 12 years service as a County Supervisor has meant money in the bank to every San Diego City and County taxpayer. Dent's business background and seven years of service on the San Diego Board of Education provide the depth of knowledge necessary to fulfill the requirements of a County Supervisor.

Continuity on the Board of Supervisors is important since the County is growing rapidly and must concern itself with long-range planning.

Bob Dent's experience and knowledge contributes heavily to the stability of the board in assuring steady progress for all areas of the county.

La Presa School Bids Out Again

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District is going to call for another bid on construction of the delayed La Presa Junior High School.

The action came at a special meeting held at the District's headquarters in La Mesa Monday night.

The bids will be opened on Oct. 31. It is expected that construction will begin by the first of the year. This is the third time that the District has called for bids on the project.

In both cases, the bidders were above what the state will allow the district to spend for the new school.

Santa Sophia Church Celebrates 10th Annual Bar-B-Que, Bazaar

The Santa Sophia Church of Spring Valley will put out the welcome mat to all the dudes and dolls of San Diego County, when they celebrate their 10th Annual Western Bar-B-Que and Bazaar.

The round-up will open Oct. 5 & 6 each day at noon on the church grounds at 9800 Campo rd.

An open pit bar-b-que featuring beef, beans, and all the fixings will be served in the church hall from noon on both days according to Gene Balogh, food chairman.

The beef will be prepared in the Hawaiian pit cooking style, by Joeinto Camizero.

According to Camizero, after the pit is dug it is lined with select rocks which have been washed clean.

A fire is then built in the pit until it is nothing but a bed of coals.

All of the coals are removed

Church Women Plan Workshop

The American Lutheran Church Women Board of the Lemon Grove Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Donald Johnson, 2259 Debeo dr., at 7:30 p.m., tonight.

Plans for the workshop in November will be discussed. The monthly inspirational meeting of the A.L.C.W. will be held on Tuesday evening, Oct. 8, at 7:30 p.m. in Luther Hall.

Mrs. Ray Laaker will give a demonstration of the making of Christmas for the family Christmas tree. Hostesses during the coffee hour will be Mrs. Otto Graeme and Mrs. Ted Steele. All the women of the church are urged to attend.

During the month of October subscriptions and renewals to Scope and Lutheran Standard will be taken by Mrs. Freda Ralston and her assistants following both Sunday morning services. Please contact Mrs. Ralston (466-1201) for further information.

Pastor Johnson and members of the Church Council will be attending the Southern Conference Convention at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church on Sunday, Oct. 6, from 2 to 5:30 p.m.

Beginning this week, Confirmation classes will meet every Thursday. The 7th and 8th graders will meet at 4:30, and the 9th graders will meet at 6:30 p.m. and the meat which is wrapped in sterile cloth and tied into 30 pound bundles it is placed in the pit next to the hot rocks on banana type tree stumps and then covered with banana leaves.

The leaves produce the moisture to create steam with the end result meat which is so tender a knife is really not necessary.

The meat is covered with the hot coals and then filled in with the dirt to form a seal. It cooks for approximately 12 hours.

Other features of the bazaar include booths, games, pony rides, a clown and a country store.

The proceeds from the two day event will go towards restoring the exterior of Santa Sophia Catholic Church to its original beauty, according to Father John Verhoven, pastor.

Chairmen for the two day event are James Goodson; coordinator, Gene Balogh; food, Mrs. Jerry Smith; tickets, Mrs. Gene Balogh; prizes, Henry Easter; grounds, Lee Maat; construction, Dick Spurgeon; treasurer, Mrs. Allen Peters; booths and Mrs. Dick Hinson, public relations.

A new church year begins Sunday for the First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove, 2910 Main st., with Sunday School beginning at 9:30 a.m., and the morning worship service at 10:50 a.m.

A newly elected staff of workers has been elected to instruct children from birth through high school in Bible, music, and church doctrine.

Each Sunday at 6 p.m. Advanced Christian Training School offers timely topics of study for every age group. The evening worship service follows at 7 p.m.

Wednesday is Family Night, with dinner served on a reservation basis, at 6 and Sunday School Workers Clinic at 6:45.

During that same hour, Sunbeams for children 4 through 8, GA's and RA's for those 9 through 11, give missionary emphasis, instructing the children about the cultures and customs of the lands where Baptist missionaries are serving.

The Youth of the church visit during that hour, followed by a discussion time at a member's home each week. Mid-week prayer service begins at 7:30 p.m. with Adult choir practice at 8:30 p.m.

A new singing group called "The Select Singers", made up of children in grades four through seven, practices each Sunday afternoon at 4:30, as does the Youth Choir. Bill Hawes is Director of Education and Music.

The church was active during the summer months conducting Backyard Bible Study in homes throughout the area, and the annual Vacation Bible School in August, with over 200 in attendance.

Walter Holmgren and Jennings T. Morgan were recently ordained as Deacons in the church, with thirteen other Deacons and the church pastor, Robert E. Kleinschmidt, participating in the ordination service.

Wilcox Electric Inc. (doing business as Arrow Electric) of Lemon Grove has been awarded a contract for $22,165 for installing traffic signal and highway lighting systems, and constructing left turn storage lanes on Orange ave., at Adella ave., Dana pl., in Coronado.

The announcement came from the State of Calif. Dept. of Public Works in Sacramento.

Cerfers will sing in Sunday services, go on outings together, join in lively discussions, carry out service projects, have parties, etc.

Presently they are planning Charger game and miniature golf outings. The Cerfers meet regularly each Tuesday from 4:45 p.m. for recreation, classes, cost supper, planning and choir.

For more information phone 463-7174 or 463-0078.

Each day Congress is in session work begins at 6:30 p.m. on the publication of the Congressional Record, the chronicle of the day's happenings. Copies are delivered the following morning by 8 o'clock. Circulation is more than 47,000 copies.

Students Receive Bibles At Valley Baptist Church

A new Sunday School year will open this Sunday at the Spring Valley Bancroft Baptist Church.

Promotions were held last Sunday for members of the school which has an enrollment of 314 at the current time.

More than 20 students were promoted to new classes and new departments. Special recognition was made to girls and boys being promoted from the Primary Department to the Junior Department.

Beginning pupils in the Junior Department are those who are nine years of age, or who will have reached their ninth birthday by April 1.

Each boy and girl promoted to the Junior Department receives a Bible as a permanent gift in recognition of this promotion. Leonard Perkins is general superintendent of the Sunday School.

The following girls and boys are to receive Bibles and promotion certificates: Julie Ball, Monica Mendez, Scott Beasley, Joyce Barbee, Kathy Roberts and Michael Bohy.

Also Cindy Boone, Debbie Roland, Mike Dickens, Terry Bowen, Virginia Smith, Mike Dimick, Phyllis Burbridge, Diana Steffen and Carl Gunnels, Jr.

Others include Diane Faye Catalano, Aaron Chandler Grosson, Judy Donahue, John McBurnie, Donna Holdren, and James O'Mary.

Also Genia Lord, John A. Sinclair, Resa Martin, Bobby Willardson, and Ralph York.

World Wide Communion is Sunday

World Wide Communion will be celebrated on Sunday, Oct. 6 at the 10 a.m. service of worship at the First Congregational Church, 2770 Gleebe rd., Lemon Grove.

World Wide Communion began during World War II as a symbol of Christian unity which transcends boundaries of international conflict.

The celebration will be open to all true believers. A congregational meeting has been called by the Church Council for the same day, Oct. 6 at 7 p.m. The purpose of the meeting is to act upon the proposed By Law changes.

Copies of the By Laws as revised were distributed to church members Sept. 22 at church and also through the mail the following week.

All church members are urged to be present to vote upon the proposed changes.

Southern Baptists Association To Conduct Dinner, Celebration

The San Diego Southern Baptist Association will complete 25 years of service this year, and notice will be made of it in two ways, on Oct. 6, a dinner on the grounds will be hosted by the First Southern Baptist Church of San Diego, 4353 Park blvd., J. Walker Campbell.

Four other congregations will participate in the dinner: First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove, Robert Kleinschmidt, pastor; First Baptist Church, Pacific Beach, Carl Whitlock, pastor; Highland Avenue Baptist Church, D. Wade McKinley, pastor; and Calvary Baptist Church, Linda Vista, Gene Slone, pastor.

These were the five congregations that met at the first annual meeting in Oct. 1943 in the Sunset Lodge Hall, 3911 Kansas, San Diego.

These five churches reported a total membership of less than 300. Their 1968 records show a total membership of these five churches to be 4,796.

Following the dinner on the grounds, displays will be set up by these five churches in the Fellowship Hall at First Southern of San Diego to show the pictorial history of the churches.

The second emphasis that will be given at the 26th Annual Meeting of the Association that will meet Oct. 10, 11 at the meeting house of the First Southern Baptist Church of Lakeside, Ronald Chandler, pastor.

The program will feature some of the "old timers" when they shall read scriptures, lead in prayer at the beginning and closing of the three sessions. Richard G. Bryant will speak to the opportunities of the churches in the association under the title, "To Jericho or to People?"

In the second and third sessions, two veterans ministers will speak. They are Floyd Looney, Editor of the "California Southern Baptist" and Cecil J. Pearson, Baptist Church of San Diego.

Area PTA Highlights

Mt. Vernon School

A calendar which includes such varied activities as a pot luck dinner, Halloween Carnival, fashion show and Christmas pageant has been drawn up at the first meeting of the 1968-69 Mount Vernon PTA.

Under the direction of president Mrs. Jerry Reinecke, the 25-person committee will establish a working link among students, parents, teachers and officials for the school year.

The initial school activity will be a pot luck dinner to be held in the Mount Vernon School auditorium, Oct. 10, to enable parents to meet the teachers and staff.

One pre-school function of the group was its annual summer Backyard Swim Program which this year enabled 91 area students to complete an American Red Cross Water Safety course.

Assisting Mrs. Reinecke is Mrs. Judy James as vice president while Mrs. Laura Pantazopoulis is second vice president and Mrs. Pearl DuFon third vice president.

Completing the executive board are Mrs. Marion Oberdorfer as secretary, Mrs. Sheila DeNunzio as treasurer, Mrs. Audrey Larkin as historian, Mrs. Nancy Wells as auditor and Mrs. Colleen Hill as parliamentarian.

Chairman of board positions include Mrs. Marlene Phillips for backyard swim, Mrs. Pat Nye, courtesy, Mrs. Frank DuFon, disaster and safety, Mrs. Evelyn Slater, Founders' Day, Mrs. Minnie Bond, hospitality and Mrs. Ronnie Welch, inside publicity.

Also assisting are Mrs. Mary Ann Johnson, inspiration and character, Mrs. Carol Debus, magazines and calendars, Mrs. Gabe DeNunzio, outside publicity, Mrs. Carol Martin, PTA workshop, Mrs. Esther Ayres, room representative, Mrs. Jean Middleton, telephone, Miss Gay Ramsey, teacher representative and Mr. Wiley Cornelius, school advisor.

S.V. Elementary School

"Up Up and Away — Join the PTA."

That is the slogan used by membership chairman Mrs. Sandy Villanueva who is conducting the Spring Valley Elementary School PTA membership drive during the week of Oct. 7 to 11.

Dues of 50¢ per person will help with the health, safety, juvenile protection, welfare fund and many other services for our children.

At the September meeting, a plan to protect school children from possible molesters and aid youngsters in emergencies was approved by the Spring Valley Elementary PTA membership.

This "Block House" plan designates a home in every block where a child can go to an adult, explain his problem and obtain help.

The house is identified with a "Block House" sign. Mr. Jimmy Massey, Juvenile Safety and Protection chairman is in charge of organizing this program.

9th District

"Facts and Fancies — Film and Fads" is the theme selected for the Ninth District health department's conference, Oct. 16, at the County Education Center Auditorium, 6401 Linda Vista rd., from 9 a.m. until noon.

Mrs. Don Hunsaker, chairman, said the program is in three parts. "Members of the federally funded community laboratory, Smoking Research/San Diego will present, "Just a Silly Millimeter," which will include: The Role of PTA; Ralph Grawunder, Ed. D., Professor of Health Education at San Diego State, speaking on Smoking Research/San Diego — Why?

An introduction of the new School Curriculum Guide and Science Teachers' Kit; and "The Drag," a six-minute Oscar nominated film by the National Film Board of Canada.

Dr. Grawunder's Community Health class from State College will be present to observe PTA in action.

Part II will be a discussion by Kenneth Fare, County Chief Probation Officer, on "Vapor Sniffing, Jimson (Lo-co) Weed and Other Fata Fads." "Aerosol sniffing has claimed the lives of seven young people in our county since May and other fads have also claimed their toll," according to Mrs. Hunsaker.

Dr. Aubrey McTaggart, Associate Professor of Health Education at San Diego State, will speak on "The Love Generation and Some Unlovely Problems, VD Increases in a Permissive Society," for the third part of the conference.

The conference, planned for PTA council and unit presidents; chairmen of health, welfare, parent education and juvenile protection; principals and school nurses, is open to the public.

Registration is at 8:45 a.m. Coffee and donuts will be served.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED: The engagement of Miss Rebecca Sue Parsons, daughter of Mrs. W. L. Parsons and the late W. L. Parsons, to Duane Eugene Strong of La Mesa has been announced.

A wedding date of Dec. 7, 1968 has been set. The 2 p.m. ceremony will take place in the First United Methodist Church of San Diego, with the Rev. C. A. McClain, Jr. officiating.

The bride-to-be is a 1968 graduate of Mt. Miguel High School. Strong is a 1967 Mt. Miguel graduate and is currently serving in the U.S.A.F. as a medic.

Troop 333 Sets Colorado Trips

Boy Scout Troop 333, sponsored by the Lemon Grove Methodist church's Men's Club, will make a trip down the Colorado River Dec. 26-Jan. 31, according to Scoutmaster Leonard Griego.

The Troop will float down the river bank each night. They will start at Blythe and end at Imperial. About 25 youngsters will make the trip.

During the Easter vacation the troop will spend several days in the Grand Canyon. During the trip the Scouts will study nature and will visit with the Supi Indian tribe which inhabits the Canyon.

A bus will transport the troop on both trips, leaving from the Lemon Grove Methodist church's parking lot.

An invitation will be the accompaniment of a Girl Scout Troop on both trips. They will be chaperoned by several adult leaders.

The trips will be financed by proceeds for a Christmas tree sale the Scouts will conduct in December.

The Troop invited boys 11-16 years of age to join.

Four candidates for the presidency in 1924 resulted in the election being decided by the House of Representatives. Andrew Jackson got the most votes but did not have a plurality, and John Quincy Adams was declared the winner by the House vote.

Parents are urged by Mrs. Cosner to attend to learn what senior activities will be held this year, and what the future could mean for graduating students.

Miss Robbins has invited representatives from local colleges to talk over scholastic requirements and courses available.

The senior class president will relate class activities planned for this year. There will also be a discussion on job opportunities for students after graduation.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Fugitive slaves from southern plantations wandered into Florida before the Civil War where they were given refuge by Seminole Indians but were also kept as slaves.

Cub Scout 'Round-Up Planned By Pack 318

A drive to enroll every eligible boy in the Lemon Grove area will be the goal of Cub Scout Pack 318 when the annual Scout Recruit Night is held Monday evening at the Mount Vernon School at 7 p.m.

All boys who are eight, nine or ten years old or who are in the third grade are invited to attend the meeting with their parents.

Recruit Night is conducted each year throughout San Diego County by all Scouting units in the area.

The meeting will consist of a short presentation by the Scouts and then an enrollment session will follow. Pack 318 will be assisted by an area Boy Scout Troop.

The local Pack has been rated as one of the most active in the county. Their most recent activities have included a beach party at Mission Bay, and a tour through Golden Arrow Dairy.

Also included were a hike up Stonewall Mountain in the Cuyamacas, a roller skating party, a miniature golf gathering, an Olympic Games competition, a treasure hunt and an outing to the University Avenue Astroslide.

In addition, Pack 318 is scheduled to perform the opening flag ceremonies at monthly meetings of the Mount Vernon PTA this year.

The Pack is also beginning a collection of uniforms used by former Cub Scouts to help defray costs incurred by new members.

All boys who enroll at Scout Night will be inducted at the October meeting which will also be the scene of the Pack's annual Halloween Carnival.

Booths and materials for the carnival are now being assembled by Cubs and their parents.

Pack 318 recently completed a summer recruiting campaign by inducting six boys at its last meeting.

Catholic Daughters Take On New 1968 Charity Project

The Lemon Grove Junior Catholic Daughters of America, Court Teresa of Avila 1580, has taken a new pet charity for 1968.

This is the Angels Unaware Day Center for retarded children. The group of girls will be working with the children, giving parties, making Christmas decorations and doing other things to make the lives of these children more pleasant.

Mrs. Charlotte Hale, Director of the center will be present at the next meeting of the Junior's which will be held on Wednesday evening Oct. 2 at the home of Mrs. Richard Dion, counselor of the troop.

Mrs. Hale will talk with the girls and explain what they can do to help at the center.

The Juniors will also discuss activities that they have been working on such as Project Handclasp and Teenagers for Decency.

Override Committee Gathers Today To Map Out Plans

Chairmen for the tax ceiling election in November in the Grossmont Union High School District will get together this morning at 10:30 at the Carmen Ranch in Lemon Grove.

The chairmen will discuss the campaigning plans calling for passage of the new tax ceiling to replace the one expiring in June of 1969.

They will also work out in-service training programs for precinct workers to inform them about the necessity of the new ceiling.

Without the passage of the measure, funds in the school district will be cut in half.

Crewmembers of the carrier, on its first combat cruise to the Western Pacific, are providing the support needed to keep the ship's airplanes flying daily combat missions against the enemy.

In recent action American pilots accounted for more than 33 trucks destroyed. The pilots have concentrated on truck parks, fuel storage areas and inland supply routes. They have also damaged or destroyed three bridges and rendered impassable sections of a main highway used for supply traffic.

The carrier's pilots have also struck river traffic on the rivers and canals of North Vietnam.

JOHN F. BENNETT

Marine Private John F. Bennett, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bennett, 9394 Birch st., Spring Valley, has graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

He will now undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and .45-caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

PHILIP A. RIZZO

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

Hopes are high for a successful "Olimpiada" (Olympics) in Mexico City beginning next week. At that time the whole world will have their eyes and ears on our Spanish-speaking neighbors to the south. That's right, on the 12th of October "Comienzan las Olimpiadas" (The Olympics will begin).

There is a commemorative coin for the Olympics issued by "Estados Unidos Mexicanos" (United States of Mexico). It is a beautiful piece with "El aguila" (The eagle), Mexico's national symbol on one side, and "Nn Indio" (An Indian) with the Olympic symbol on the other side.

Value of the coin is 25 Pesos, or converted to "dolares," it is worth two dollars on the local market. In many areas, it is already bringing more than the two dollars.

As everyone knows, the purpose of the Olympics is "competicion de juegos" (competition of sports games). Some of the words that will be heard in the competition will be used in today's practice phrases. If you go to the Olympics next week these phrases might make interesting conversation, and if you don't go, you might hear them on television right in your own home.

Just dial 276-2762 and practice saying the phrases with the recorded voice. The voice will say each word separately and pause while you say the same word.

IMPORTANT PHRASES
Say "Hay mucha competicion." (AH-ee MOO-cha kohm-peh-tee-see-OHN) for "There is a lot of competition."

Say "Juegan diariamente." for "They play each day."

USEFUL PHRASES
Say "Quien gana?" (kee-EHN GAH-nah) for "Who is winning?"
Say "El champion." (ehl kahm-pee-OHN) for "The champion."

OTHER PHRASES
Say "Cuando terminan?" (koo-OHN-doh tehr-MEE-nahn) for "When do they finish?"
Say "En octubree." (ehn ohk-TOO-breh) for "In October."

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION. Legislative Constitutional Amendment. Repeals, amends, and revises various provisions of the Constitution relating to the public school system, state institutions and public buildings, cities and counties, corporations and public utilities, water use, state civil service, future constitutional revisions, and other matters. Legislature may provide that the Superintendent of Public Instruction be chosen by a method other than by election; and that the Legislature may increase membership of the Public Utilities Commission.

THIS newspaper presents to its readers, in a five part series, both the pros and cons, for Propositions 1-9 that will be on the ballot in the Nov. 5 general elections. This presentation does not reflect the opinions of this publication nor is it intended to direct the voter to cast his or her ballot in any particular direction.

The Pros and Cons are a reproduction of part of those that have been compiled by George H. Murphy, Legislative Counsel, and certified as correct by Frank M. Jordan, Secretary of State.

Constitutional Revision

Pro

A "Yes" vote on this measure is a vote to revise portions of the California Constitution dealing with the initiative and referendum (see above).

Prop. 1 revises the articles on education, state institutions, and public buildings, cities and counties, corporations and public utilities, land and home- stead exemption, amending and revising the constitution and the state civil service.

The more significant constitutional provisions in Prop. 1 include continued elections of the State Super. of Public Instruction, subject to change by statute approved by two-thirds of the members in each house of the Legislature, which is subject to the Governor's veto and the people's powers of initiative and referendum.

Charges for attending elementary or secondary public schools are prohibited and free elementary textbooks are assured.

The present city-county system of local government is preserved. Continuation of Calif.'s outstanding civil service system is guaranteed.

It shortens the Constitution by eliminating unnecessary verbiage, obsolete provisions and provision which are more appropriate in statutory form.

It modernizes the remaining provisions by rephrasing and changing them to fit today's needs.

We support this proposed revision of the State Constitution and urge all Californians to vote Yes.

Robert Finch, Lt. Governor; Jesse M. Unruh, Speaker of the Assembly and Hugh M. Burns, President Pro Tempore of the Senate made this presentation.

Con

A "No" vote on Prop. 1 is urged so that Constitutional guarantees which the people now reserve to themselves will not be lost.

Some of the guarantees that will be lost include that specific public officials will be elected and that the state will participate in the financial support of each school district.

Also, it removes the guarantee that the goals of the public school system are limited and clearly defined and that control over local government affairs will be lost.

The measure removes from the Constitution language which over the years, has acquired an established meaning, and substitutes undefined, ambiguous expressions which are likely to cause great turmoil.

It abolished the guarantee that there be an elected county superintendent of schools, and empowers the state government to provide for "intermediate units" in the public school structure.

It eliminates the provisions guaranteeing that the state will annually provide school districts with at least $120 for each pupil, and substitutes the vague expression that the state shall grant "basic state financial aid" to each district.

John Stull, Assemblyman of the 80th District, Robert H. Burke, Assemblyman of the 70th District and H. L. Richardson, Senator of the 19th District all have urged voters to cast a "No" ballot on Prop. 1.

TAXATION OF PUBLICLY OWNED PROPERTY. Legislative Constitutional Amendment. Provides that after 1968 lands located outside of the county, city and county, or municipal corporation (including any public district or agency) owning the same, which with prescribed formula based on total population and assessed value in the state, and assessmen; also shall be subject to other specified conditions and presumptions.

THIS presentation does not reflect the opinions of this publication nor is it intended to direct the voter to cast his or her ballot in any particular direction.

The Pros and Cons are a reproduction of part of those that have been compiled by George H. Murphy, Legislative Counsel, and certified as correct by Frank M. Jordan, Secretary of State.

Taxing Public Property

Pro

A "Yes" vote on this measure is a vote in favor of providing special rules for taxing land and improvements owned by a county, city and county, or municipal corporation which is taxable by reason of its being located outside of the boundaries of the governmental owner.

A vote for this measure, in the affirmative, would provide a permanent, fair solution to long-standing disputes and costly litigation between public agencies, such as cities, counties, and district owning taxable land and water rights located outside their boundaries.

These properties have been acquired over the years to provide water and other utility services to their inhabitants.

Such lands and water rights are taxable, just like private property. However, unlike private property there is no fair, agreed upon method of assessing such land and water rights.

Such property is unique. Actual sales, against which to measure fair market values are virtually non-existent.

This amendment continues the taxation of these publicly-owned lands, but sets up a state-wide formula so their assessed evaluation will increase at a similar rate to the general increase in property values throughout the State . . . an estimate 5 per cent each year.

I urge a Yes vote.
Senator George R. Moscone, 10th Senatorial District, City and County of San Francisco made this presentation.

Con

A "Yes" vote on Prop 2 will take away the right of the taxpayers to control their own tax rate. Passage will increase the tax burden of homeowners and businesses in many Calif. cities and counties.

Prop. 2 removes the right of the taxpayers in a county to assess lands owned by outside public agencies. It provides for an assessment formula which greatly benefits the large governmental agencies while it discriminates against the local taxpayer.

Lands owned by public agencies and held in another county, would be assessed at a lower value than similar properties in that other county.

Most municipalities owning large parcels of property in other counties are large and wealthy. The counties in which such lands have been acquired usually are small and wealthy.

Why should large municipal utilities receive favored tax treatment at the expense of the local taxpayers? Prop. 2 has the effect of relieving large public agencies of their responsibility to pay their fair share of taxes.

Counties will be defenseless against increases in the cost of local government and services because their income will be fixed.

Keep your right to assess the value of all land in your county . . . vote No on this proposition.

Richard J. Dolwing, Calif. State Senator, 12th Senate District and Leo J. Ryan, Calif. State Assemblyman, 27th Assembly District made this presentation.

Leonard Klee Will Lead Music Parents

Leonard Klee will take office as President of the Lemon Grove Music Parents at their first meeting scheduled for Monday night at 7:30 in the Lemon Grove Junior High School auditorium.

Other officers to serve the group, made up of parents of music students in the Lemon Grove School District, are Mrs. Carl Taylor, 1st vice; Mrs. Leonard Hansell, 2nd vice; Mrs. Virginia Long, secretary; and Mrs. Leon Hoffman, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Henry Reinecke, ways and means; Mrs. John Peters, telephone; Mrs. John Weld, chorus robes; Mrs. Robert Fyock, transportation; Mrs. J. C. Sanchez, hospitality; and Mrs. William Ball, parliamentarian.

Mrs. S. L. Slay is in charge of band uniforms, with Mrs. Klee, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Peters, and Mrs. D. G. Johnson on the committee.

At the initial unit meeting, several band students will offer instrumental solos.

The 70 member marching band, led by Leesa Taylor as solo majorette, participated in the Kiwanis Kids Day Parade, and is scheduled to appear in the Salute to Navy Day Parade in National City on Oct. 19.

Harry Weisgerber, director of the instrumental music department, said the band is a new one this year, made up of many fifth and sixth graders, with a few veteran 7th and 8th grade members returning.

"We are working hard, though, and in another year or two, as these kids progress, we should have a fine band." The Lemon Grove Marching Band, along with the concert band, and orchestra, have won many musical awards in the past years.

Cajon Speedway

Russ Bullen Goes After Third Win At Raceway

Russ Bullen, riding the crest with two straight victories at Cajon Speedway in El Cajon, will head up top name drivers Saturday night at 8 p.m. for another program featuring the super stock cars of the El Cajon Racing Association.

Tex Kimbrell's lead has been cut to 950 points with the center of the top ten drivers moving even tighter for the final run in the last four races.

Only 824 points separate second from seventh place in the standings, all with over 3,000 points.

Leading contenders with a good chance to stop Bullen of Chula Vista are Kimbrell, Backy Peralta, El Cajon; Richard White Escondido and Jim Hitt of Lemon Grove.

Hitt has yet to win but now has the Mark Motors Ford running in top shape.

Special event of the evening will be the powder puff girls, ten cars strong, racing in an all girl event of 10 laps.

Top contenders will be Diane Porter, Paradise Hills; Mary Ann Klein, Spring Valley; Dorothy Bridges, El Cajon; and Grandmother Helen Elliot of E.C.

Stock cars greatest year will reach the 100,000 attendance mark this Saturday night with 98,317 going through the gates in the 24 meets to date. Up 20% over 1967 and a banner year for the fast flying stock cars.

Some 30 cars will start qualifying at 6:30 p.m. for a spot in the 13 event program. Trophy dash 8 p.m.

Monte Vista Cross Country Team Hits Sweetwater, 15-50

The Monte Vista High School cross country team crushed Sweetwater High 15-50 Friday afternoon at Sweetwater to give the Monarchs their second straight win of the season.

On Oct. 11 the Monarchs will face Helix High School.

Helix Harriers Down Clairemont 25-34 For Win

by Don Kiener

The Helix High School cross country team downed a strong Clairemont squad 25-34, to bring their season record at 2-0 to remain undefeated.

After smashing Vista, 17-44, the strong Helix squad placed 1, 3, 6, 7, and 8 to chalk up their second non-league victory.

Golden Bowl Teams Get 'On The Board' In Play

With winter bowling at Golden Bowl (Spring Valley) just barely "getting on the boards," six leagues have reported standings. We are listing first, second and third place standings only.

In the first week, the His and Hers league reports: Team No. 2 in first; Team No. 4 and Team No. 5, tied for 2nd; Team No. 3 and Team No. 6, tied for 3rd.

El Capitan league, in its first week, reports: Team No. 5 and Wintergarden Furn. Rep., tied for first; Five Frosties and Team No. 5, tied for 2nd; Team No. 1 and Team No. 6, tied for 3rd.

Nuggetters, in its first week, reports: Harvey's Mobil, first; a four-way tie for 2nd, between Stage Step and Wilson's Texaco, Potter Rappold Bldrs., Team No. 3 and Rejects; Penny's Hairstyling, 3rd.

Team No. 6 Leads Valley Trio, in its second week, reports: Team No. 6, first; Team No. 10, 2nd; Team No. 3, Team No. 4 and Team No. 2, tied for 3rd.

Mixed Sports, in its second week, reports: Midway Chuck Wagon and Team No. 5, tied for first; Team No. 6, 2nd; Em-N-Cees and The Big Four, tied for 3rd.

Gold Fingers, in its second week, reports: Midas Touch and Team No. 2, tied for first; Team No. 6 and The Rock Bottom, tied for 2nd; Team No. 1 and Golden E.G.G.'s, tied for 3rd.

The Monarchs are operating under a new set of CIF requirements this year. They are limited to 7 runners on the varsity team. Last year they could enter 10 men.

Coach Mike Curran has voiced opposition to the rule. He feels that the new rule helps the teams who do not have depth. He said that by limiting the number of runners, that those teams with few good runners are benefited.

In regards to the victory over Sweetwater, he said that Steve Gillean, Gilbert Arroyo and Joe Mears were standouts in preserving the varsity's record.

On Oct. 11 the Monarchs will face Helix High School.

The Monarchs, in the non-league match, went without the services of Dave Carter, their top runner, who was scouting a tough El Cajon High team.

Monte Vista will lock horns with El Cajon Friday afternoon in their league debut. The result of the race may determine the cross country title in the Grossmont League.

The local entry was runner-up in the league last year, and league champs in 1966. They were edged out of the title last year by El Cajon.

JV's Give Trouncing The junior varsity club for the Monarchs nearly duplicated the varsity win at Sweetwater as they trounced their opponents 15-49.

In the j.v. win, both freshmen and upperclassmen combined their talents against the city league entry for the victory.

GRID TILT: Al Bahr Temple Noble Ernie John (right) of Lemon Grove helps Shrine charity football game co-chairman Ray Shukraft with a stack of posters announcing the Oct. 19 grid tilt in San Diego Stadium. John said tickets for the game, which pits San Diego State College against Los Angeles State College, now are available at Al Bahr Temple in San Diego's Mission Valley.

Padres Complete Training Staff Assignments Helix Grid Squad Wins 25-21, Face Surprise Package Friday

by Tom Warren

The staff of the San Diego Padres has been completed with the signing of George Lee (Sparky) Anderson as third base coach.

"This completes the Padre staff for 1969, both on the field and in the front office," said Padre President Bazzie Bavasi.

"Now we can get down to work and on with the building of a ball club."

Anderson, a former infielder with the Philadelphia Phillies, comes to the Padres from the Cincinnati organization where he has been a minor league manager. Anderson managed his teams to championships in each of the past four seasons.

Anderson won pennants at Asheville (Southern League) in 1968; Modesto (California League) in 1967; St. Petersburg (Florida State League) in 1966 and Rock Hill, S.C. (Western Carolina League) in 1965.

Anderson, 34, currently lives in Thousand Oaks with wife Carol and children George Lee Jr., 10; Shirlee, 8, and Albert, 7.

The signing of Anderson, who joins the Padres immediately, rounds out the staff of manager Preston Gomez which includes Roger Craig, Wally Moon and Whitey Wietelmann.

Castellanos Leads Golfers

Bob Castellanos paced the Lemon Grove Sportsman's Golf Club in its 1968 Summer Classic at the Cottonwood Golf Course recently with a 77 score in the low gross department.

Jerry Bron picked up top prize with a 67 in the low net division.

Brown, with his win remained out in front in the President's Cup race with a total of 27 points.

The club, with 59 members will tour the Bonita Golf Course on Saturday, Oct. 26 as they compete for 12 trophies, and $60 in merchandise awards.

After falling behind 21-6 in the third quarter, the Helix Highlander grid squad rallied to defeat the Hoover Cardinals 25-21 last Friday night.

The victory was climaxed by a 45-yard touchdown pass from Jim Eraut to Jerry Anderson. The clincher came with only 25 seconds left in the game.

The Scots first got on the scoreboard five minutes and ten seconds into the first quarter, with senior halfback Gene Rhoads going over for the score.

Hoover then bounced back with a 20-yard touchdown pass early in the second quarter from quarterback Dan Downey to end Jack Neal.

Cardinal Richard Stamos kicked the extra point and the Redbirds led 7-6.

Hoover tallied another second quarter score with a 55-yard run by halfback Charlie Johnson. The extra point was good and the Cards left the field with a 14-6 halftime lead.

The Redbirds scored again in the third quarter with a seven-yard run by fullback Butch Sawyer. The run terminated a 67-yard drive for the Cards.

Comeback The Highland men came to life again in the fourth quarter with a 22-yard run by Rhoads. Shortly afterward Scot Mike Stein blocked a Cardinal punt, setting up a 55-yard Highlander touchdown drive. The drive was capped by a 15-yard run by Bob Laue.

Highlander Steve Coover then recovered the ensuing kick-off, setting up the clincher to Anderson.

Eraut finished the game with three completed passes, good for 77 yards and one touchdown, while Hoover quarterback Downey ended up with four completions for 33 yards and one touchdown.

The leading ground gainer in the game was Johnson, who finished with 126 yards rushing and one touchdown. He was followed closely by Rhoads, who gained 120 yards on the ground and got two of Helix' four touchdowns.

In total team rushing the Scots came out ahead with 145 yards as compared to Hoover's 138.

Surprise Package This Friday the Highlanders take on a small, inexperienced, but surprising Santana squad. The game will be played on Monte Vista turf.

The Sultans, under head coach Bob Guess, surprised Orange Glen last week, handing the county champs their first defeat in two years.

Santana relies heavily on their passing game, headed up by junior quarterback Kyle Hypes. Some of the receivers he's likely to be looking for are senior Skip Stephenson, junior Larry Forster, and sophomore Dennis Core.

The Highlanders will probably offer a more balanced attack, sparked by the running of Rhoads, and the passing of Eraut.

Helix coach Al Hammermidt cited the two, along with Bob Cyman, Bruce Walton, Steve Starling, and Laue for outstanding performances against Hoover.

He also praised the play of defensemen Mike Althof, Mike Stein, Steve Coover, Willie Hathaway, Kurt Brown, and Milan Young.

"The main thing," said Hammermidt, "was that everybody did a good job in the clutch."

Odometer Law Odious Says Auto Dealer

Emphatically stating his opposition to the new state law which allows disconnection of a new car's odometer before the vehicle's sale, Pat Grace of the Pat Grace Ford Agency in Lemon Grove called for repeal of the controversial measure.

"I value the confidence and trust of the public and believe this new law does not give the customer the protection to which he is entitled," Grace said.

"I think a customer would rather buy a new car with a few actual miles put on it in tests and possible transfers from one dealer to another than to buy one with a questionable '0' on the odometer." An odometer is popularly called speedometer.

He explained that the Motor Car Dealers Association of Southern California, of which he is a member, last year was solidly behind the Beilensen bill (SB 134) which made it unlawful for any person to disconnect, rest or turn back the odometer of any car to reduce the number of miles indicated.

This year the dealer organization reaffirmed its stand against odometer disconnects and a board of directors' meeting is being called to plan a move for repeal of the new law, he declared.

"I am particularly concerned," Grace said, "about the provision of the law which requires the dealer to give the buyer only an estimate of the number of actual miles on the new car. Not only is this unworkable and unenforceable, but it sows the seeds of doubt and mistrust in the mind of the customer."

The bill, sponsored by Fred W. Marler (R-Redding), was signed into law by Gov. Reagan Aug. 14.

Shrine Game Tickets Are Now On Sale

Lemon Grove-Spring Valley residents planning to attend the fifth annual Shrine charity football game and pageantry in San Diego Stadium Oct. 19 may obtain tickets at Al Bahr Temple in Mission Valley.

Ernie John of 2995 Crane st., Lemon Grove, assistant director of the Al Bahr Shrine band, said this year's grid tilt matches nationally-ranked San Diego State College against California State College at Los Angeles.

The 7:15 p.m. event is designed as a family affair, he said, with tickets scaled at $2 for general admission and $3 and $4 for some 22,000 reserved seats between the stadium's two goal posts.

Against this year, John said, the entire net proceeds will go toward support of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in Los Angeles, one of 13 such institutions the fraternal order operates in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Mike Schaefer Raps Johnson-Humphrey In Congressional Bid

"The American consumer has taken another kick in the shins from the Johnson-Humphrey Administration and the Democratic Congress," Republican Congressional nominee Mike Schaefer said.

"The cost-of-living index jumped another three-tenths of one per cent last month," Schaefer noted. He called for the replacement of "big spending Democrats in Washington with a Republican Administration and Congress which will be concerned about what is happening to the value of the dollar."

"This is the 19th straight monthly increase in living costs," Schaefer pointed out. "It is a tragedy for those of the 37th Congressional District trying to raise families on low or medium incomes and for those on pensions and other limited incomes."

Schaefer, a two-term San Diego City Councilman, called the increase "the price of waste, especially in the Federal government."

"Without question, Federal spending is the chief culprit in driving prices upward," he said.

"Unrealistic policies in running a high-cost war without imposing economic curbs at home have let inflation out of the corral. We now have trotting inflation that threatens to turn into a gallop."

Schaefer said the present rate of inflation — which has boosted living costs 4.5 per cent above a year ago — disguises the real hardship to many families since some items of even higher costs aren't included in the cost-of-living index.

"Services, medical care, repairs and many other items have jumped, some as much as 20 per cent over the past three years," he declared. "This has got to stop."

Schaefer urged the people of the 37th "to join with me and the Republican Party in a crusade to save our dollar."

"We have seen the dangers that eight years of Federal overspending now pose to our economy," said Schaefer. "Every day we are feeling the frightening effects of rocketing prices, yet the super-spenders call for more and bigger programs, more and bigger debt — and with it more and more vicious inflation."

Grove Men Get Top VFW Posts

KANSAS CITY, MO. (Special) — James L. Smith, 1554 El Prado, and W. Happy Blake, 2168 McKnight dr., both Lemon Grove, were appointed National Deputy Chiefs of Staff, V.F.W. by Richard W. Homan, Commander-in-Chief of Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Blake is general manager of Lemon Grove Post 2082 which is located at 2885 Imperial ave. Blake said Post 2082 also achieved distinction recently in being named top Post in Group 3 in California. Commander Tom Little was named the top commander of some 600 Posts in the State, Blake said. The Post led in such categories as Americanism, loyalty, youth activities, membership growth and welfare of its membership and their families.

In announcing the appointments, Commander Homan said, "Blake's and Smith's duties as National Deputy Chiefs of Staff are to assist their Department Commanders in organizing new Posts."

"Many factors have contributed to the success of the V.F.W., foremost among which is the steady membership gain we have experienced over many years. Because our organization concerns itself deeply with the welfare of the veteran and his family, and with community service, we continue to grow and expand."

"Leadership which inspires and maintains enthusiasm among workers will continue to spell progress for the Veterans of Foreign Wars. These men have exemplified strong leadership qualities and I know they will continue to serve the V.F.W. with distinction."

Medical Groups View Candidates

Lemon Grove representatives of 17 organizations in the health care field will take part in a pre-election candidates meeting scheduled Oct. 16 in the Community Concourse Convention Hall.

Sponsored jointly by the Hospital Council of San Diego County and the San Diego County Medical Society, the non-partisan forum will feature personal appearances by candidates seeking county, state and national offices.

Medical Society president Dr. Gladden Elliott said the public rally will open on the Convention Hall's main floor with a 5:30 p.m. social hour that will be followed by a buffet supper at 6.

Hospital Council president James F. Bray said invitations also have been extended to both major presidential aspirants and to nominees for the United States Senate and county Board of Supervisors.

Conceived by the two health care organizations to acquaint their members with political candidates individually, this year's meeting has been broadened to include participation by the general public.

Bray said 1,100 $1 balcony seats will be on a first-come, first served basis.

Highway Taxes Net County Some $17,465

State Controller Houston I. Flornoy announced the distribution of $54,064,222 among the State, cities and counties as the August apportionment of highway users taxes.

San Diego County's share was $17,465.87.

A total of $13,201,363 went directly to the counties; $9,887,188 to cities; and $30,975,671 for expenditures on state highways.

The total was derived from the following sources: gasoline tax, $47,663,086; diesel fuel tax, $2,908,186, by transfer from the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund, $2,035,602; and the balance from miscellaneous sources.

MAIL BAG

To the Editor:

The main headline in tonight's San Diego paper (Sept. 24, 1968) says "Santa Ana Burns On and So Do the Fires," "Peril Critical as Mercury Soars" — It has been something like that for three days now.

The humidity is at a very low ebb. It is on this night that our Lemon Grove Fire Department chooses to accommodate a local contractor and save him the cost of clearing several houses from his private property.

The excuse is that this activity furnishes "training" much needed by our fire eaters. Perhaps some measure of training is imparted, but by my observation it seemed that the most training being assimilated was how to stand and watch a house burn to the ground.

I know how to do this at the age of two!

Several questions come to mind.

1. Why is our tax supported fire equipment being used for the benefit of a private contractor and thus taking jobs away from the laboring class?

2. What provisions could be satisfactorily be made to cover legitimate large fires which could have started in the central fire zone just after these several houses were set?

3. What semblance of good judgement could be claimed training or no for setting several large buildings ablaze under today's weather conditions?

4. What indemnity would have been paid and by whom in the event that the embers from the sky had burned neighboring homes?

5. Why should the taxpayer pay for four California Highway Patrol cars and officers necessary to control the traffic?

I am proud of our Firemen and equipment. I want them to have advantage of educational training.

I am just as sincere in believing that the persons responsible for the choice of time and place deserve a severe reprimand for the decision to set a block of houses on fire in a populated area during the worst fire weather.

Appraisers Appointed

State Controller Houston I. Flornoy announced the appointment of Maurice T. Watson and Charles W. Froehlich, Jr. as State inheritance tax appraisers for San Diego County.

They will fill the positions formerly held by Vernon H. Gaston and Thomas P. Golden. Flornoy said that both men had taken and passed the Inheritance Tax Appraiser Qualifying Examination on November 4, 1967. Flornoy added that both men understood that he would continue to press for reform legislation abolishing the appointive system of tax appraisers.

Flornoy said that Mr. Froehlich and Mr. Watson also had agreed to refrain from holding prominent partisan political positions while serving as appraisers.

Publication Distribution Is Expected Soon

Mrs. Mary Giacinto, editor of the La Mesa Writers Club writers' publication, "Showcase," said this past week, she hopes the book will be ready for distribution by Oct. 21.

This will be the second publication of the book and the third year the club has sponsored a county-wide writers' contest.

The book, "Showcase" this year is to be dedicated to the people of San Diego on the 200th anniversary celebration of San Diego. Mrs. Giacinto said.

Many names and works of local writers will appear on the pages of the book, Mrs. Giacinto said, and winners of this year's contest will be named and awards given, she said.

Funds Sought For Making Park Of Sweetwater

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors on Monday authorized applications for $3,389,500 in state and federal money to acquire three regional parks, including Sweetwater Reservoir which will be leased.

The Sweetwater situation is confused because of the condemnation action against the California-American Water Company by the South Bay Irrigation District.

Lets have a more thorough evaluation of the genuine educational value in terms of the risks, public expense for private gain, purpose of a fire department and climatic conditions.

Lady luck may not be so accommodating again!

Bill Ayers Attends San Francisco Conference For Fleet Reserves

Bill Ayers, Republican candidate for Assembly in the 77th District, and retired Navy Chief Petty Officer, recently returned this week from three days of deliberations at the National Convention of the Fleet Reserve Association, held in San Francisco.

Ayers was Co-chairman of Branch 289 (Imperial Beach) delegation. The Fleet Reserve Association is a worldwide organization of active and retired Navy and Marine Corps personnel numbering 67,000.

The organization is known as "the enlisted military career man's voice in Washington." Its various branches have worked for legislation that would benefit active and retired military personnel throughout the country.

While in San Francisco, Ayers conferred with the "two senior enlisted men" in the Navy and Marine Corps; Delbert D. Black, Master Chief Petty Officer of the U. S. Navy and Herbert J. Sweet, Sergeant Major of the U. S. Marine Corps, concerning the legislative problems of enlisted men.

Ayers commented "the 41st National Convention of the

4-H Club Holds Elections, Fair

Mrs. Janie Olsen leader of the Spring Valley 4H Club has announced new officers of the club, elected on Sept. 11:

Teresa Traugher, president; Rusty Straight, vice president; Janet Wilson, secretary; Peri Kope, treasurer; Eric Jennings, recreation chairman; Dawn Wilson, historian; Linda Olsen, reporter; Peter Jennings and Neil Wilson, sergeant-at-arms.

The club meets the second Wednesday of October at 7:30 p.m. in Room 401, Monte Vista High School. Mrs. Olsen's phone number is 460-3686.

October 6-12 designated as "4H", the Spring Valley club plans a fair to be held Saturday, Oct. 12 in the Spring Valley Shopping Center parking lot, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

On display will be variety of animals, a bake sale of cakes, cookies, brownies and cup cakes. There will also be a cooking display, sewing and woodworking exhibits.

Besides being an attraction for the general public, the Spring Valley 4H Club hopes the fair will attract more youngsters to join 4H club work. Any youngster between the ages of 9 and 18 is eligible to join.

The Spring Valley 4H Club held a picnic at Eucalyptus Park in mid-September for members, parents and families to attract more members and have plans for a big future, says reported Linda Olsen.

County Gets $23,811 In Tax Returns

State Controller Houston I. Flornoy recently announced the distribution of $6,081,362 to counties and cities as the August apportionment of cigarette tax.

San Diego County's share was $23,811.57. This amount represents 30 percent of the revenue deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the month of July, 1968.

The apportionment was made in accordance with the new formula under A.B. 684 which became effective on July 12, 1968, (Ch. 543).

Under the new formula, 50 percent of the cities' share was apportioned by Local Sales Tax ratio and 50 percent by population ratio.

The distribution of the counties' share remained the same as before — on a local sales tax ratio.

UNICEF Project Set For Halloween

"Lemon Grove churches will be asked to help sponsor a UNICEF 'Trick or Treat' project on Halloween," Mrs. S. R. McKern, local chairman of the event said today.

UNICEF is the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. Poverty stricken families in underdeveloped countries are aided by the collections, Mrs. McKern said.

"I was in India in 1966 and I saw UNICEF in action with its supplemental feeding program for undernourished children of rural India. I came home determined that I would ask churches to support the UNICEF 'Trick-or-Treat' program instead of the candy and lollipop routine," she added.

Mrs. McKern said that she is Fleet Reserve Association was one of the most productive I've attended."

"It is significant to comment," said Ayers, "that for the first time in its 44-year history, the Fleet Reserve Association elected an active-duty man as its President."

Elected was Stanley S. Nahill, Senior Chief Storekeeper, of Branch 60, Norfolk, Virginia. Nahill is serving on the staff of N.A.T.O.

Monarchs Shattered 40-6 In First Game Of Season

by Scott McGaugh

Monte Vista's hopes for their first successful football season were all but extinguished as the Mission Bay Buccaneers trounced the Monarchs, 40-6, last Friday night at Monte Vista in their season opener at home in a non-league.

Although the record books will say that the Bucs beat the Monarchs, it was Buccaneers Wayne Myran who beat Monte Vista. Myran carried the ball four times for 303 yards and for four touchdowns all in the first half. Myran averaged 75 yards a carry against the Monarch defense.

Monte Vista settled down in the second half, allowing the Bucs just one touchdown in the final two periods.

The only Monarch score came with 24 seconds left in the half. Bill Wordon took a Mike Nush pass over the middle for 32 yards and a touchdown.

Hush was sidelined in the second half with a broken finger and Rich Hammett came in and did well under the pressure.

The night was one of one mistake after another as nineteen penalties were called against the two teams. If that wasn't

2 Mirrors Are Must For Cars

"Some California motorists apparently do not know that they must have two rearview mirrors on their automobiles," Captain R. Gautsche of the California Highway Patrol said.

"Knowing what is going on behind you is important, just as knowing what is happening in front of you," Captain Gautsche said.

"A law which was passed last year and has been in effect since January 1, 1968, has made this easier. Under this law, each vehicle, with the exception of motorcycles, must have at least two mirrors, including one on the outside left-hand side of the car."

"The addition of the second mirror will enable the driver to more easily see emergency vehicles and others cars coming up fast from behind, and cars that are following too closely."

The Patrol commander said his officers are noting many vehicles that do not comply with the law, indicating that some motorists are evidently not aware of this new requirement.

"It is important that owners comply with this new law, not only because it is the law, but also because it will contribute to their safety, and that of their passengers," he added.

Theology Professor Visits Lemon Grove Saturday Afternoon

The Reverend Dr. Roger L. Shinn, Dean of Instruction at Union Theological Seminary in New York City, will meet on Saturday, Oct. 5 at 1:30 p.m. with leaders of the First Congregational Church, 2770 Glebe rd., Lemon Grove.

Ministers of the United Church of Christ Association plus one key layman per minister have been invited to meet with Dr. Shinn at 3 p.m.

Dr. Shinn is one of the most exciting people on campus of any theological seminary today.

He has written several books, including "Tangled World," "We Believe" (a study of the United Church of Christ Statement of Faith) and most recently, "Man: The New Humanism."

Church leaders are urged to participate.

contacting pastors of all Lemon Grove churches as time will permit, to urge them to promote this program through the church youth.

enough, the two squads managed to fumble six times.

The only real thrill for the Monarchy came when Vince Campoli of Monte Vista took a kick-off and returned it 90 yards to the Buc's one. The Monarchs then proceeded to fumble on the next play.

The Monarchs will be looking for revenge this Friday as they journey to El Cajon to play the Braves in the league opener for both teams.

Fund-Raiser Heads Named

Mrs. James Ketcham and Richard Brown have been named GOP fund-raising banquet ticket sales committeemen for east San Diego County by John A. McColl, ticket sales chairman for the annual event.

Committeemen will contact Republicans in their particular area who attended the $100-a-plate dinner in previous years. They will also extend a special welcome to those who wish to attend for the first time.

Congressman Gerald R. Ford, Jr., of Michigan, House Minority Leader, will be principal speaker at the dinner gathering, to be held Oct. 9 at Hotel del Coronado.

An estimated 40 persons were present for a recent kickoff breakfast at which McColl, a San Diego securities broker, was named ticket sales chairman. Richard G. Capen, Jr., public affairs director of the Copley Press, serves with him as general co-chairman of the annual event.

Proceeds from the traditional dinner will help finance 1968 campaigns of local, statewide, and national GOP candidates. They will also be used to meet operating expenses at San Diego Republican Central Committee headquarters, according to RADM. Leslie E. Kehres, USN (ret.), chairman of the committee.

McColl stated that business, professional, and community groups may arrange to sit together at the banquet by making reservations at Republican Central Committee headquarters in the San Diego Trust & Savings Bank Building.

This year, for the first time, the names of more than 2,000 persons who attended previous banquets have been put on computer cards and will be available on readout sheets for use in ticket solicitation.

Post Events Listed By VFW Post 6874

Encanto Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6874 and Auxiliary was honored with the visit of the Department Junior Vice Commander, Joe Barretto, and his wife recently. Accompanying them was the First District Commander, Dale Wiley.

Last week, the Post held a "Tropical Dance" at the VFW hall on 5860 Market st. There was live music and a continuous buffet.

The annual Hospital Day South bus trip was made to Sawtelle Hospital in Los Angeles for the purpose of entertaining and aiding the Veterans there last Sunday.

In the month of September Post and Auxiliary members aided and handed out small flags to Dependents of 6 Navy Vessels on their return from tours of Viet Nam. Post 6874 and their Auxiliary are one of the Sponsors of the "Operation Welcome" program.

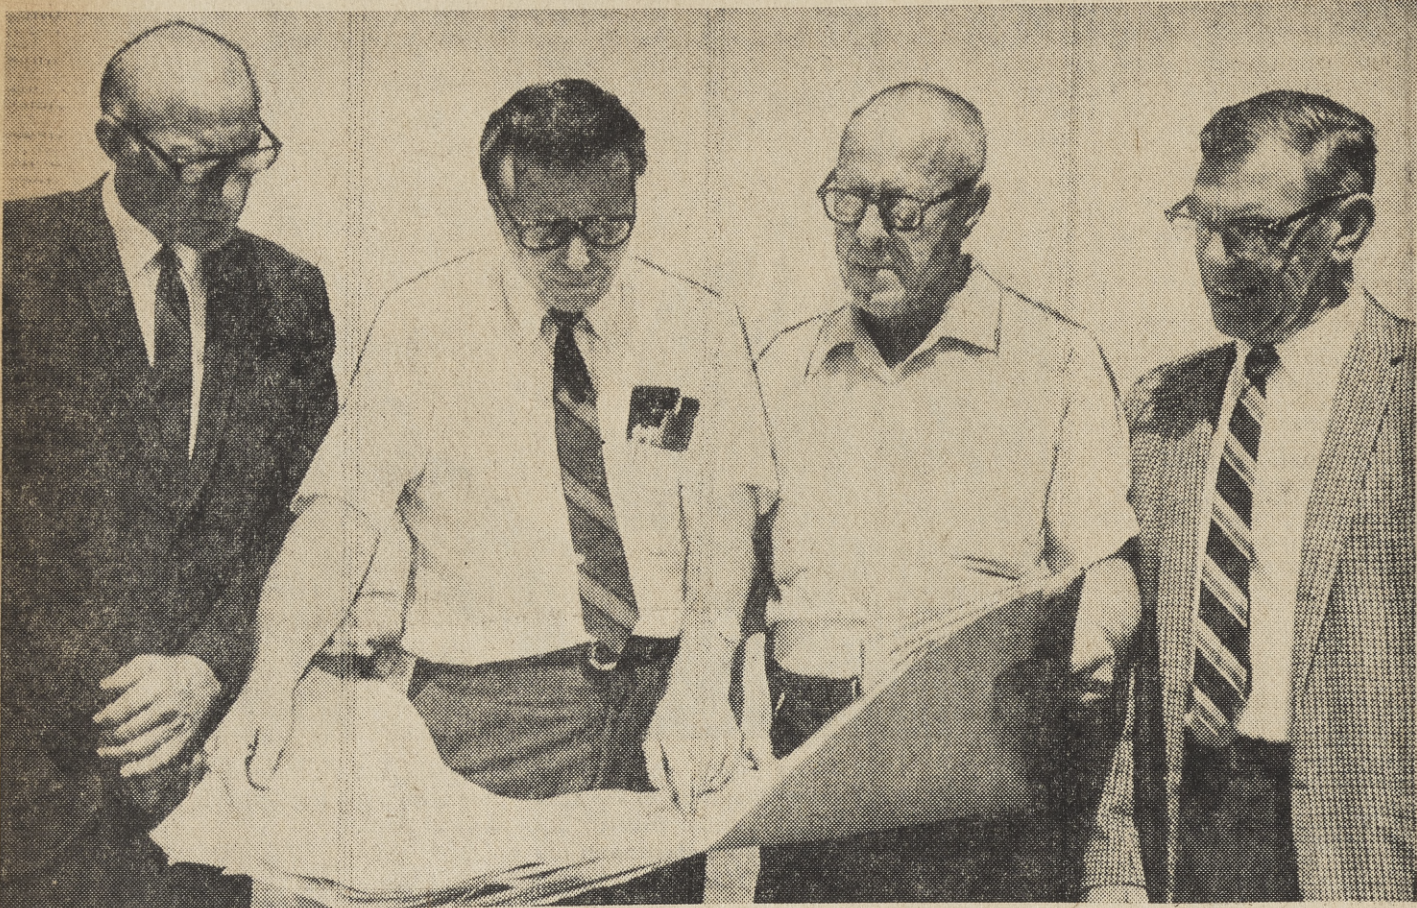

Young Republicans Back Bill Ayers

The College Community Young Republican club has officially "adopted" the campaign of 77th Assembly District candidate Bill Ayers.

In an unanimous vote, club members this week pledged that they would work on Ayers' behalf for the remainder of the campaign.

Club president, George Gorton, 21, said that the Ayers programs and actions are those young people can support.

The College Community Young Republican club is made up of college and working individuals between the ages of 20 and 30.

CONSTRUCTION: A $450,000 housing project is under way on San Miguel, just west of Glebe rd., in Lemon Grove. The project will include 21 single family FHA/VA homes on five acres of land. Shown as they look over plans for the project are (from left to right) Jim Terry principal of the San Miguel school, George Phillips, civil engineer, Bruce Osborne, builder and developer of the project and Byron Netzley, superintendent of Lemon Grove Schools. Osborne said that completion date has been set for January 1969.

School Board Gets 'Back To School' Report From District Superintendent

Grossmont Union High School District's Governing Board heard a report on the first day of classes in the 1968-69 school year from Austin R. Sellery, Superintendent, and Stanley McClintic, Associate Superintendent recently.

Enrollment, predicted at 17,200, reached a total of 16,794, with a gradual increase expected to bring the enrollment to the peak by late October.

First day count from each school is as follows: Grossmont, 2453; Helix, 2519; El Cajon, 1887; Mt. Miguel, 2563; El Capitan, 1683; Granite Hills, 1853; Monte Vista, 2126; Santana, 1614; Continuation, 300; and Special Education, 400.

Dr. Sellery also reported to the Board that the tax ceiling election campaign got under way recently with a meeting of the committee of Grossmont District Citizens for High Schools, chairman Karl Tuttle presiding.

Dr. Sellery expressed his pleasure in finding a group of enthusiastic citizens ready to go to work to secure a yes-vote for tax funds to maintain the excellent program in the District and to avoid the devastating effect, if a failure should force the District to operate on the basic tax rate of 85c.

In addition to routine business, the Board also viewed a film and tape presentation of the Compensatory Education Program now in progress at El Cajon, Helix, El Cajon Valley, and Mt. Miguel High Schools.

This project, financed by federal funds under Title I, is designed to meet the individual needs of 480 students, most of them in 9th grade, who are unable to cope with the regular program, in spite of their mental abilities.

Excellent results are reported by the film and tape, presented by Robert Bunting, Assistant Director of Educational Operations. The film was made by Ray Stansbury of El Cajon High; the script was developed by Dan Pumphrey.

English teacher at Granite Hills High.

It was felt that the direct teacher-pupil relationship made possible by the federal funds is a key to the achievement of remarkable results with these students.

The Board received a State Assembly Resolution honoring the Grossmont High School Band and director, James Nichols, on the excellence of their performance in the Super Bowl in Miami last winter.

They also heard a letter from Mr. Martin Eisen, Catering Manager at The Aztec Motel in Miami Beach, commending the good conduct of the Grossmont students while they were there.

Member George K. Birch expressed the Board's pride in both the letter and the resolution.

Workers To Get Wage Survey

Pay rates for about 14,000 blue collar workers of Federal Government agencies in the San Diego wage area will be affected by a wage survey that the Department of Defense will conduct in October under the U. S. Civil Service Commission's new Coordinated Federal Wage System.

As the largest Federal employer in the area, the Department of the Navy has established a local three-man survey committee, according to Committee Chairman Alvin A. Adams, Navy Public Work Center Maintenance Control Department Head.

Other survey committee members are Frank C. Kearney, Wage Classification Superintendent of the North Island Naval Air Station, and Paul D. DeVall, who represents the National Federation of Federal Employees, Local 919, Oceanside. Major Naval activities in the area will assign data collectors to work with the committee.

In accordance with the Civil Service Commission program announced Dec. 1, 1967, wage surveys are to be conducted in all areas of the nation to ensure that employees performing similar work in the same wage area receive the same rates of pay in all Federal agencies. Prevailing pay of local private industry will be the basis of the new Federal rates.

Under the new system, all ungraded employees will be referred to as Trade, Craft, and Laboring Employees. There will be 15 non-supervisory grades.

In each geographical area, the Federal agency having the most Trade, Craft, and Laboring Employees generally acts as lead agency. However, if the lead agency is part of the Department of Defense—the Navy is the largest Government employer in this area—then the Department of Defense acts as lead agency.

The San Diego Area Wage Survey Committee receives guidance from Charles G. Gard, of the Navy's Long Beach Branch Regional Office of Civilian Manpower Management.

At the present time more than 50 different agencies have some 800,000 wage board employees in over 300 local wage areas throughout the United States.

The policies announced for the new system conform with President Johnson's memorandum of Nov. 16, 1965, which directed the development of common job standards and wage practices to ensure interagency equity in wage rates based upon statistically wage surveys.

The Coordinated Federal Wage System carries out the principles set forth by the President that wages shall be in accord with prevailing rates and that there shall be equal pay for substantially equal work and pay distinctions in keeping with work distinctions.

Robbery

Murphy whipped his shot gun around in a striking manner just missing the suspect. By the time that he had placed a round of ammunition in the chamber and turned around to fire, people blocked the area in which he would be shooting.

The suspect ran past Dept. Johnson, who drew and fired his service revolver. An all points bulletin has been sent out for the suspect.

Something's Wrong

Deputies were called to the store after Robert B. Hope, an employee of Rexall, returned to the firm after locking up for the night.

Hope had the feeling that "something was wrong" at the store. He turned off the alarm, and entered the store.

After entering the store, he heard someone saving through the ceiling. He went next door to a liquor store and called police officials.

A hole was found cut in the roof, with another hole in the ceiling.

The suspect ran from the scene when Deputy Johnson entered the front door of the store. Puqua then ran to the back of the store, and left via the back door.

Hope saw the suspect and asked him, "What are you doing here?" The suspect mumbled something that Hope did not understand and then ran down an alley.

It was then that he was captured by Murphy and taken to the patrol car.

Educational Advantages Draw Strong Response In Spring Valley

by Tommy Thomas

It has been interesting to note that over the past few weeks we have published the names and other information about Spring Valley youth, former students here, who have gone on to higher learning, and who have been selected to study abroad.

Some have been selected by way of scholarships and other methods of being able to acquire their studies abroad.

One girl in particular has been able to stay and study in Australia for about one year, the experience being a valuable addition to her learning.

Along the same line I was interested, and knew you would be also, with a short item in a recent issue of the "Clip Sheet," the small publication of the University of California. Under the heading "414 UC Students To Study Abroad," it read:

"SANTA BARBARA — The University of California, which strives to bring the world to its students, exposes some of these students to the world through the Education Abroad Program which operates study facilities in Columbia, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Lebanon, Mexico, Sweden, Spain and the United Kingdom.

"This fall 414 UC students from all nine campuses will live and study abroad for one academic year. Any upper division student with good grades and a serious purpose is eligible, as are a few graduate students. Students usually apply at the beginning of their sophomore year at the Education Abroad Program Office at their home campus. Santa Barbara is the headquarters campus for the program.

"Special loans, and in some cases scholarships, are available to help the student meet the expenses of transportation, books, room and board and personal needs. The student, of course, must pay the regular UC incidental fee.

"Opening this fall for the first time are centers at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel, and the American University of Beirut, Lebanon. During the summer a new center was opened in Mexico City in association with the National Institute of Anthropology and History.

And speaking of education... a man who was educated in this area, and who went on to become tops in aviation circles, Edwin Robeson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Robeson of Troy st., is now stationed with Pan American in Hawaii.

He is married and with a family. This summer three of his children and wife visited George and Edith Robeson and spent some time enjoying our Spring Valley weather.

They said they like Hawaii, but "miss Spring Valley."

A neighbor of the Robesons, Marguerite Veery, who is a member of S.V. Women's Club and its women's chorus, and a member of S.V. Welfare Inc., has been in a La Mesa convalescent home for a time, after she fell twice at the home on Troy st. The manager at the home said Marguerite is "coming along well" and responding to treatment and hopes she may return home soon, but should have someone with her.

Congratulations to Mary J. Kelso of Spring Valley for recently attaining the Dean's List at the University of California at Davis. Mary's folks, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kelso, live at 3665 So. Granada st.

The Kelso's have lived in Spring Valley for about three years. Mary is a graduate of Morse High School in San Diego and has been majoring in Anthropology.

Congratulations also to Don Webster of 3847 El Canto dr. He and his wife have been selected to attend the Farmers Insurance Group Council, Oct. 15 to 21 at Palm Springs.

Webster, who is an agent for the company, notes that this is the fourth year he has been called to the Council.

Television Set Taken

Steven W. Nichols of 8037 Lake Adlon, San Diego, reported to San Diego County Sheriff's deputies that someone had taken a television set that belonged to him.

MRS. ALICE MEANS

Recitation of the Rosary was said Sept. 26 at Conrad's Lemon Grove Mortuary, and a Requiem Mass held Sept. 27 at St. Therese of the Child Catholic Church, for Mrs. Alice Means, 50, of 642 Paradise st., Spring Valley.

She died Sept. 25 in a hospital, after a long illness. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Mrs. Means, a native of Michigan, was a retired San Diego City Schools psychologist. She was a graduate of St. Mary's College, near Milwaukee and had been awarded a master's degree in psychology by San Diego State College.

She had been a teacher in the San Diego City Schools for 20 years and the psychologist for ten years. She retired in 1966 because of ill health.

Mrs. Means was a member of the National Education Association, San Diego Teachers and California Teachers Associations and the PTA.

She is survived by her husband, Harry A. Means; four sons, including Clyde of Spring Valley and George of San Diego; her mother; three brothers; a sister, Mrs. Eulogia Layman of San Diego; and five grandchildren.

RAYMOND E. WALKER

A Requiem Mass was said for Raymond E. Walker, 52, of 3119 Mass. ave., Lemon Grove yesterday at the St. John of the Cross Church.

Mr. Walker passed away Sept. 29. He had lived in the area for 20 years and was a member of the Knights of Columbus and a member of the IBEW No. 569 electricians union.

He is survived by his wife Lorene Walker; four daughters including Mrs. Janice Graf, of Pacific Beach and Mary Rita of Lemon Grove.

He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Walker of Pasadena; four brothers, three sisters and two grandchildren.

The rosary was said for him Tuesday night at the St. John of the Cross Church. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery. He was a World War II veteran.

VINCENT J. URSILLO

A Requiem Mass was said at the St. John of the Cross Church in Lemon Grove Tuesday for Vincent J. Ursillo who passed away while in a medical clinic at Guadalajara in Mexico.

He was injured in Vietnam two years ago when he was hit in the neck. He was paralyzed from the neck down by the wound.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Eris Borraeci; two brothers, Robert and Michael Ursillo and one sister, Sandra Ursillo, all of Lemon Grove.

He was a 1966 graduate of Mt. Miguel High School and had been a quarterback for the football team there.

The Rosary was said for him Monday at the church. Interment was at the Fort Rosecrans National Cemetery.

MRS. MARY FITZENMEYER

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Fitztenmeyer, 75, of 7522 Roosevelt st., Lemon Grove, were held Oct. 1 at Greenwood Mortuary. Entombment was in Greenwood Mausoleum. She died Sept. 29 in a hospital.

Mrs. Fitztenmeyer was a native of Iowa and had lived in San Diego County 46 years.

She is survived by a son, Max Fitztenmeyer of Lemon Grove; a daughter, Mrs. Esther L. Crawford of San Diego; a brother; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

THE 130 MPH TIRE.

For people who don't do over 70, but want a ridiculous margin of safety.

A Pirelli Cinturato can do 130 miles per hour. For 24 hours straight.

It can cut a corner at speeds your car can't muster. It'll stop your car faster than any other tire made. It's less prone to skid than any other tire on the road. Wet or dry.

And a Cinturato grips hard-packed snow and ice so fiercely, it's every bit as effective as an ordinary snow tire. How do you build a tire as safe as this? Easy.

You build a tire for American cars to Ferrari GT tolerances.

Other radial ply tires use tubes. We're tubeless.

Other American car radials use two plies at the sidewall. We use three.

By the time we're finished laboring over a Cinturato, it's tough enough to withstand three times more road impact than an ordinary tire.

A Pirelli Cinturato for an American car costs as little as $40. For European cars as little as $18, depending on the size.

Someday, every car will come equipped with a tire as safe as the Cinturato.

But until that day you can get it from us.

RUGGED ROCK GARDEN — The ruggedly natural sweep of this corner rock garden carries the eye from street level to the contemporary home above it and helps to blend the structure into the background foliage. Notice how the rocks are imbedded deeply enough to seem to "belong" to the area. The shrubs add height and interest to the garden while the flowers add color. Fall is a good time for the basic construction work and for planting spring-flowering bulbs.

Rock gardening, one of grandmother's favorite hobbies, is making a steady comeback with young moderns, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. The informal makes good contrast with contemporary architecture and is right at home in a period or traditional setting.

While the main floral glory of rock gardens comes in spring and summer, new construction work can be done now.

A natural rock garden is one solution to the problem of how to landscape a piece of rocky ground. Before rearranging anything, examine the site and any plants already growing naturally there. Some native perennials, ferns and wildings, may be suitable for retaining, and any light shade they provide can be a distinct advantage to the new plants you add.

Dig out all unwanted growth and coarse herbage and prune those trees and shrubs you want to keep. Mix the soil deeply with decayed organic material and bonemeal. Fertilizer is not necessary since most rock garden plants prefer lean soil to one that is decidedly rich. Rake out narrow rock crevices.

APPLIANCES, LIKE RECIPES, INVITE PERSONAL TOUCH

"Women inherently like to change an original," according to Frigidaire home economics director Mary Huck, "whether it be a recipe, a dress, a room, an appliance or husband."

Knowing this, Frigidaire has made it possible for many 1968 refrigerators, ranges, dishwashers and room air conditioners to be decoratively changed almost as often as a woman's mind.

Some of the new refrigerators, for example, feature designer doors with removable handles and edge trim.

Replacing the bright edge trim and door handles secures the homemaker's personally styled decorative panels.

For certain ranges and dishwashers, Frigidaire makes available accessory framing kits. These, too, will accommodate a variety of individualized front panels.

With another accessory kit of decorator panels provided for some new air conditioners, the homemaker has practically unlimited choices in decor. One panel has a cherry tone finish on one side and a walnut type pattern on the reverse side. The second panel in the kit has an "op art" side while the reverse side is blank.

Prestige room air conditioners, in addition to their standard front panels of walnut vinyl-on-steel, can also be changed with optional decorator fronts.

EXTERIOR SIDING BECOMES IN-THE-HOME-PANELING

There was a time when DF PA grade-trademarked plywood was recognized only as a structural material. It performed exceedingly well in holding buildings together, but it wasn't much to look at.

The picture is different these days. Plywood is still holding buildings together, but the product's appearance has undergone significant change.

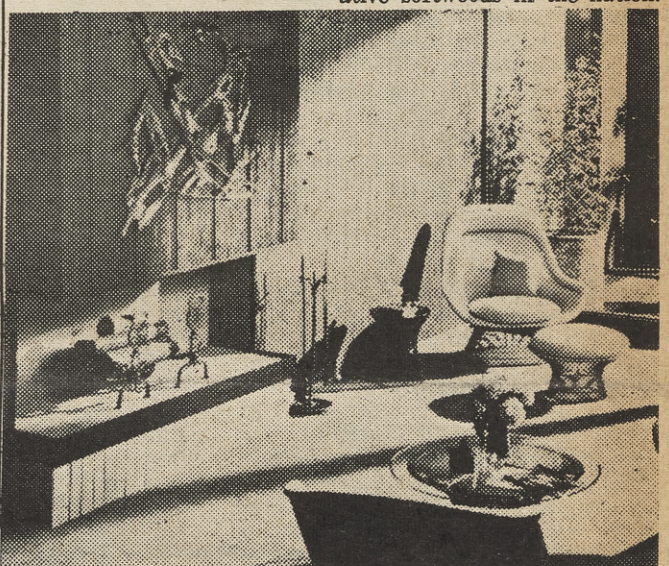

According to American Plywood Association figures, the industry sold 220 million square feet of plywood for sidings in 1966.

Most of the big and growing market for eye-appealing plywood is in residential siding, where appearance is vital, particularly the kind of appearance that holds its quality for years with minimum maintenance. In these tough applications, plywood's reputation for ruggedness is combined with new textures and blends of species. At last count, the industry was producing 13 basic types of decorative siding.

Builders with a keen eye for costs are finding that plywood siding can do two jobs at once. It acts as both a sheathing material with good insulation properties and as a decorative material that provides a first rate finished appearance. The materials cost for application of a separate layer of sheathing automatically is reduced to nothing through the use of plywood siding. More important, the labor for installing separate layers is halved, and, in most cases, the plywood can be finished with stain or shake paint that is less expensive to apply than other paints.

The same design trends that have resulted in the soaring comeback of shingles, hand-split shakes, textured board siding and textured plywood siding are tending to support the idea of using these highly-textured wood products in family rooms, playrooms and other living areas. The highest use presently appears to be in those interior areas — recreation rooms for instance — where paneling may be subjected to hard use, and where plywood's ability to take rough treatment and retain good looks is paramount.

While there's no definite plan to do so immediately, development of special panels for interior use is one of the plywood industry's ideas for the future. In terms of highest utilization of raw materials, interior softwood paneling products could be developed with high appearance-quality faces and lower grade inner plys. At present, softwood plywood used for interior applications is over-designed with exterior-quality veneer throughout.

Kerfed rough-sawn fir plywood adds texture to a wall that accents a living room and backdrops an airy patio. Durable, low maintenance plywood is stained to blend with the natural colors of the surrounding landscape and the low-key color scheme of the contemporary living room.

DO IT YOURSELF WITH HARDWOOD PLYWOOD

TV Trays for Easy Entertaining

PLYWOOD in hardwood species such as oak, mahogany, walnut, birch, maple and gum is a boon to the home craftsman who likes to turn out pieces with the true fine furniture look. Economical, practical and easy to handle, hardwood plywood is a material with which every workshop hobbyist should be familiar.

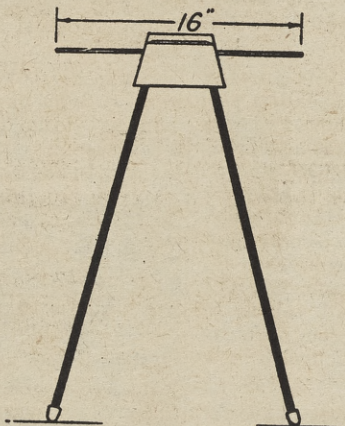

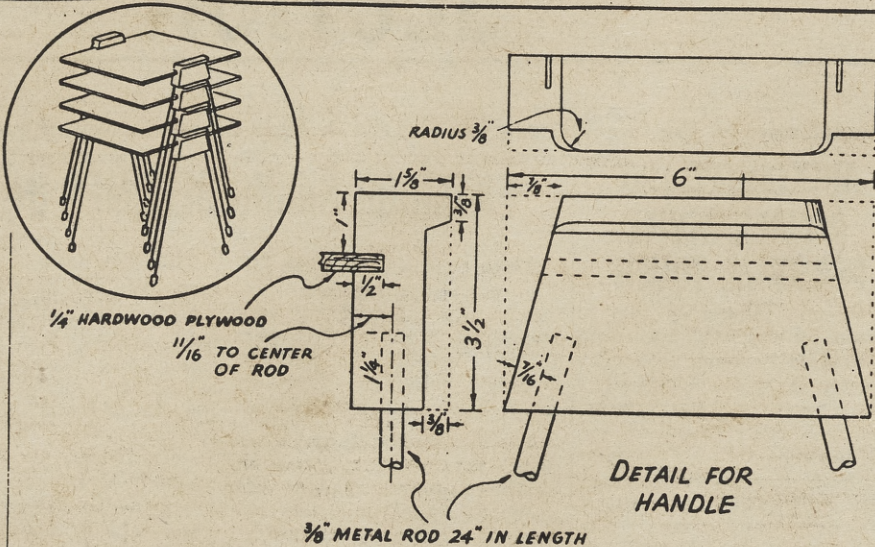

For a starter, here's a project that is useful as well as decorative—a set of "TV trays." Made to nest neatly together when not in use, they are just the thing for serving snacks to television viewers and at any buffet occasion.

The tray tops are simply pieces of 1/4-inch hardwood plywood, 14"x16", of a species to harmonize with the room furnishings. They fit into wood blocks cut from a length of 2"x4" lumber, preferably of a like species, although a contrasting or dark stained wood may be used if desired. Metal rods set into the blocks serve as legs.

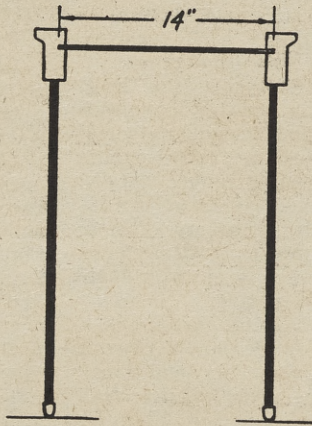

These blocks are the key pieces. They serve as handles and join the parts. The first step is to cut eight 6-inch lengths of 2"x4", two for each of the four trays. Next, diagonal cuts are made from points 7/8-inch in from each side of the block top to the extreme ends of the base. (The same result can be obtained by cutting the 2"x4" into trapezoids by a series of diagonal cuts, alternating their direction. The bottom lengths should be 6" and the top lengths 4 1/4".) The corners of one face of each block then are rounded on a radius of about 3/8-inch.

The third step is to cut 3/8-inch from the rounded face, which is to be the handle side. Extend the cut from the base to 3/8-inch from top, then cut in diagonally from the face at a point 3/8-inch from the top. (See side view of handle detail.) The protruding edge forms a convenient finger lift.

On the reverse face, 1 inch from the top make a 1/4-inch mortise

SIDE VIEW

END VIEW

1/2-inch into the block. Then drill two 3/8-inch holes into the base to a depth of 1 1/4-inch. These holes should be centered on the narrow dimension and drilled at an angle paralleling the slanting side, with a space of 7/16-inch between the slanting surface and the hole. These measurements are important to insure proper nesting.

All that remains now is to glue the plywood panels into the mortises and to fit 24" lengths of metal rod into the leg holes. If desired, the gluing may be supplemented by toenailing from the underside. Rubber caps should be fitted over the bottoms of the legs. Finish the plywood top as you would any fine furniture.

Many leading lumber dealers carry hardwood plywood in regular stock or will get it quickly on order.

You can easily adapt this plywood cabinet to storage of a variety of sporting equipment through simple variations of shelving. It can even form the basic unit for a row of cabinets in garage or basement for general household storage.

Variety Of Sports Storage Served By 3-Way Locker

Every sportsman needs a place to stow his gear where it will be safe from the ravages of common storage and prying hands.

With that in mind, the American Plywood Association has developed this quickly-built three-way sport cabinet that is easily adapted to storage of camping-hiking gear, hunting-fishing equipment, or the necessities for ski, golf and tennis.

If you're not a sportsman, the cabinet is great for other storage purposes such as tools, paints, garden equipment, canned goods, or cleaning and laundry supplies—nearly anything you might need storage for, in fact.

The hunting-fishing version has a rack that can be locked to prevent unwanted hands from tampering with your guns. There also is a locking ammunition pistol drawer, and shelves for cleaning equipment and other materials.

Fishing poles and nets are neatly stored in the cabinet's deep door, which also has shelves for small items of tackle. Your tackle box goes on the large bottom shelf of the main unit.

The basic cabinet is the same for ski, golf and tennis equipment. The interior of the main unit, however, contains only three sections—one full-height with a drop-bar that guards against a tangle of falling poles and skis, two others opposite and divided by a shelf that leaves room for golf clubs below and tennis rackets above. The handy storage door holds small items associated with the three sports.

The hiking-camping cabinet is a simple collection of well-spaced shelves. A detailed plan showing all three cabinets is available for 10 cents from the American Plywood Association, 1119 A St., Tacoma, Wash., 98401.

'Still In the Dark About Kitchen Lighting?

Even if natural lighting in the kitchen is far below minimum, today's housewife need not be in the dark.

A splash of color, the right lighting, and an eye for beauty can bring a lifetime of charm and warm and brightness to the dreariest of kitchens.

Full - spectrum fluorescent bulbs in a luminous, lowered ceiling can be installed to operate on dimmers and flood the kitchen with what approximates daylight — often hard to come by in a first-floor, rear room.

For the walls, there are available today an array of laminated plastics that bring glamour to the kitchen, yet provide the ease of maintenance necessary to the modern homemaker.

The soffit, backsplash and counter edge trim can be matched to complement the counter top and cabinet areas and add a touch of high fashion to what otherwise would be an ordinary kitchen.

Burnt Orange paneling from Consoweld Corporation, for example, can provide just the right counter top color for an otherwise dull kitchen. Edgetrim, backsplash and soffit of the company's Melody — a free-form sunburst design — will complete the wall decor.

To provide the same attractiveness, durability to cabinets lining the kitchen, the manufacturer suggests natural wood grained paneling in Colonial Cherry for a pleasing, decorative accent, offers five designs to create kitchen decors that are long lasting, easy to clean and maintain. In addition to the Melody design, there are Serenade and Caprice with mosaic patterns, and free-form, colorful designs in Gold and Blue Rondo.

Laminated plastic surfacing materials will never fade, stain nor chip. They wipe clean with a damp cloth.

Consoweld's laminated plastics are said to be unharmed by boiling water, fruit juices, alcohol, oil and other ordinary household chemicals. There are thirty patterns and twenty-four decorator colors available especially for kitchens.

Old-Fashioned Rock Gardening

ces and fill them with good soil. Deepen and fill shallow ones.

You can get inspiration for plantings in the rocky areas of nearby woods, mountains and hillsides. In general, rely on plants native to the general region and on those known to thrive locally without much pampering.

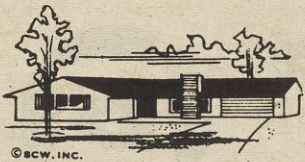

It's harder work but you also can create even a flat setting into one that looks naturally rocky. Of course, slopes, hillsides or naturally contoured valleys lend interest to constructed sites so should be included if available.

A selection of dwarf trees and shrubs, especially evergreens, will form an overall framework for your garden scheme. Dwarf yews, junipers and spruce are good choices.

For nice winter effects, choose such evergreen plants as the perennial candytuft, rock roses, silver saxifrages, bellflowers, thymes, primroses and sedums. All form lustrous foliage in the winter after spectacular floral displays in the warmer months.

Sweeps of low greenery in the rock garden give the eye an opportunity to rest and appreciate sectional parts of the garden. Creeping perennials with masses of blossoms include the dazzling moss pink, phlox, white rock-cress, purple ajuga, dwarf iris, veronicas and baby's-breath.

Carpeted Kitchen, No Flash in the Pan, Now a Durable Fashion

They doubled over with laughter when it was suggested that carpet would be practical for the kitchen just a few years back. Many people are discovering carpeted kitchens are far from an extravagance or passing fancy — but are becoming a way of life, just as at home in the kitchen as the range or refrigerator. Here's why:

- Carpeting makes kitchens safer. Statistics show many accidents in the home occur in the kitchen from wet and slippery floors.
- Carpeting saves breakage. Don't overlook the high "mortality" rate of dishes and glassware saved when they bounce rather than break on soft surface flooring.
- Carpeting helps make wives happier when confined to the kitchen for long hours at a time — less tiring on the feet, too.
- Carpeting cuts down on nasty noises and wintry drafts.
- A low, dense pile with a level surface is recommended. With such construction, carpets are easier to keep clean as crumbs cannot creep between the tufts.
- Be sure to consider a stain- and moisture-resistant carpet fiber for the kitchen. One such non-absorbent fiber — Herculon olefin, not only keeps spills and stains on the surface for easier cleaning, but keeps its first-day appearance even with hungry husbands, children and pets romping in and out.
- A mildew-resistant carpet backing for kitchens is a must. A high density foam secondary backing not only helps prevent liquids seeping through to the floor, it is so pleasant on the feet. Many lines of olefin fiber are available with such high density foam backings — which hold the line against moisture. In both cases, under-padding isn't necessary.
- With glamour as the keynote in today's kitchen decor, carpets in the most sophisticated contemporary colors are now available. Of course, it makes more sense to stay away from pale shades and stick with the more medium and darker tones in solids and tweeds to minimize evidence of soil.

KITCHEN CARPETED IN AVOCADO olefin fiber goes well with sunny yellows and hot oranges. Care of the carpet in the kitchen — indoors and out — consists of sponging up most messy spots and spills with the suds of a light detergent and water. Tedious scrubbing, mopping and waxing has been replaced by regular vacuuming as needed and an occasional shampoo. Don't overlook the savings from replacing broken dishes. Suggestions from the makers of "Windrock" by Stevens Gulistan . . . a carpet woven of Herculon olefin fiber.

PUSH BUTTON STAINING HERE FOR DECORATING

"Anyone who can push a button can stain unfinished picture frames professionally and economically with new Deft Lacquer spray stain," according to W. E. Sawtell, vice president and director of marketing for the Torrance, California firm which manufactures wood finishing products. Aerosol-packaged to eliminate the inconvenience of brushing hard-to-reach places, Deft's new interior lacquer spray stain is ideal for wood picture frames, furniture, shutters, shelves, cabinets, drawers; also for natural fiber materials such as wicker, rattan, bamboo. Dries in 30 minutes, ready for a finish coat. Perfect for shading and toning effects. Choice of seven popular wood tones; durable and uniform in color.

Is Moving A Sink Worth It???

It certainly is, if you are remodeling. You can move a sink as much as two feet in either direction with no material increase in the cost of installation. Moving a sink a greater distance might mean an additional expense for new pipes and vents — depending entirely on their present location. The new flexible copper pipes simplify the work and reduce the labor costs.

Before relocating a sink it is wise to check the building codes — or have the work done by a plumbing contractor familiar with the regulations.
